A CAREER ROADMAP FOR YOUNG ADULTS

a two part workshop for high school & college students seeking clarity on career direction

WHO

Young adults (high school and college students) seeking clarity about career planning topics, including: majors, internships, and entry level pursuits. Clients craving relevant tools to achieve their career goals. You owe it to your future self to find the best path for you, as soon as possible.

WHERE

This year's workshop will be held via Zoom. After participants have successfully completed registration, the workshop zoom link will be provided via email.

WHY

Navigating careers can be challenging, even stressful, regardless of a pandemic. Join us to gain insights into your authentic self, which will enable you to navigate life with greater clarity and confidence during these challenging times.

DELIVERABLES

Assessment tools, interactive exercises, clarity about your unique internal compass, a concrete action plan, practical application of the decision making model, renewed self-confidence, permission to look at options in alignment with who you are, excitement for the future and all its possibilities, goals for your future, and tips to succeed.

INVESTMENT

$325 if registered prior to 6/14. After 6/14, price is $375. Participants are required to purchase "Now What?" By Nicholas Lore prior to the workshop.

SIGN UP

There are several easy ways to register. Either visit www.watervillepartners.com, scan our QR code, or email Kay (kay@watervillepartners.com) for further information. Spots are secured once payment is received and confirmation is provided. Payment accepted through QuickPay, Zelle, or Apple Pay. Checks are also accepted. Refunds are provided only when a waitlisted participant is available to fill your spot. Unable to make these dates? Gather a group of friends and contact Kay to explore a custom workshop. Individual coaching available under separate agreement and rates.
